

Enabling youth-led social change: insights from non-formal education initiatives in Bangladesh, Ethiopia and Myanmar

12TH DECEMBER, 2024
09:00-11:00 (GMT)

 ONLINE EVENT

The University of Leeds and the British Council invite you to participate in the final event of the Non-Formal Education for Youth-Led Change project, where we will explore the role of non-formal education(NFE) for youth-led change across Ethiopia, Bangladesh, and Myanmar.

EVENT OVERVIEW

Panel Discussion

Hear from expert researchers in Ethiopia, Bangladesh, and Myanmar as they present the key findings on the role of NFE in empowering youth-led change. There will also be an opportunity for Q&A.

Breakout Sessions

Participate in group discussions to explore the impact, challenges, and sustainability of NFE programmes. Share experiences, discuss best practices, and explore innovative approaches for empowering youth in diverse contexts.

Report Launch

The final project report will be launched, showcasing in-depth findings and actionable recommendations on how non-formal education empowers youth to drive sustainable social change, and peacebuilding.

REGISTRATION

Please register using the eventbrite link in the email.

DEADLINE

Registration closes at 9am on Thursday 5th December 2024