

One Day Summer School for PhD Researchers Studying in the Socio-Legal Pathway

*University of Leeds 4 September 2014
10:00 – 16:15 hours
Beech Grove House Seminar Room*

Programme

09:30: Arrival

10:00: Welcome and introduction

10:10: Historical approaches and socio-legal research – Dr Sarah Wilson, University of York

10:30: Discussion

10:45: Comparative research in socio-legal projects – Professor Dagmar Schiek, University of Leeds

11:05: Discussion

11:20–12:30: Interactive Consultation on research methods

12:30–13:15: Networking lunch

13:15–13:45: Sampling – Getting it right for quantitative and qualitative research methods- Professor Susanne Karstedt, University of Leeds

13:45-14:00: Questions and Discussion

14:00 –14:20: Researching Judges [an example of quantitative methods for socio-legal research]- Dr Lindsay Stirton, University of Sheffield

14:20–14:30: Discussion

14:30–14:50: Advice Based Ethnography [an example for qualitative methods in socio-legal research] Dr. Charlotte O'Brien, University of York

14:50–15:00: Discussion

15:00–15:15: Coffee break

15:15–16:00: Interactive session: How to get published

16:00 – 16:15: Close