

Conference:
Appraising Academic Research Impact on Law and Policy in the UK and beyond

22 October 2018

We are pleased to invite you to the ‘Appraising Academic Research Impact on Law and Policy in the UK and beyond’ conference. This event is organised by the School of Law, University of Leeds.

The primary aim of the conference is to appraise how research impacts beyond academic audiences on law reform and policy development. Impact in this context includes any effects on, changes or benefits to the economy, society, culture, public policy or services, health, the environment or quality of life. This includes how academic research impacts on users’ understanding of the issues and how academics can best communicate their ideas.

Post-graduates, early careers and academics in any university are invited to present insights from their research. We welcome submissions from all research areas, which are not necessarily related to the UK, but also other jurisdictions and international institutions.

Submission Guidelines:

Abstract no longer than 350 words, should be submitted to (lwzm@leeds.ac.uk) by 30th September 2018. The notification of acceptance will be given on or before 5th October 2018.

Conference arrangements

Attendance is free, and the conference will start at 9.30 a.m. and finish at 5.00 p.m. The venue of the event is LG.06 at the School of Law, Liberty Building, University of Leeds. Food and refreshments will be provided to all attendees.
