

'NARNIAN' VIRTUES: FOR SCHOOL LEADERS, TEACHERS AND PARENTS

A presentation on the 'Narnian' Virtues in Character Education.

Friday 17th May 2019 (2:00pm - 4:00pm)

In the John McIntosh Arts Centre Theatre at The London Oratory School, SW6 1RX (via West Brompton or Fulham Broadway underground stations)

Character Education assumed increased importance in schooling and the proposed new OfSTED framework in the UK states that inspectors will: 'make a judgement on the personal development of learners by evaluating the extent to which... the curriculum and the provider's wider work support learners to develop their character' (Ofsted, 2019).

'Narnian' curriculum material will be available for free from June 2019. For further information, please email narnianvirtues@leeds.ac.uk

To attend this event please go to:
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/narnian-virtues-for-school-leaders-teachers-and-parents-tickets-59523718043>, use the QR code to the left or email narnianvirtues@leeds.ac.uk

Agenda:

2:00pm – 2:10pm

Welcome

Speaker | D. Wright

2:10pm – 2:40pm

'Narnian' Virtues

Speakers | M. Pike and T. Lickona

2:40pm – 3:15pm

School Presentations

Speakers | E. Devaney, teacher, pupils and parents

3:15pm – 3:35pm

Question and Answer Session

3:35pm – 3:45pm

Closing remarks

3:45pm – 4:00pm

Refreshments